

Little Sheep Learning

Hello from Little Sheep Learning

It's now August, sorry if you missed us not sending our newsletter in July we were busy enjoying our holidays and not enjoying chicken pox and the rain - this week Summer appears to have returned and hopefully it will stay for the rest of the school holidays. We've also been busy working with Alison at Daffodil Design to redesign our site – watch out for its launch later this month.

August Special Offers

This month's special offer item is Telling the Time reduced from £4.99 to £3.34 (a saving of 33%). Telling the Time is a lovely book which shares a day on Apple Tree Farm (featured in the popular Usborne Farmyard Tales) showing the activities that happen and the times they happen. This book is great for introducing the concept of telling the time and is a favourite with children and parents.

We also still have the last few items left in our summer sale so do take a look and grab yourself a bargain. These sale items would be great to put away for birthday presents or another rainy spell during the school holiday.
